

Chapter 101

The man sneered coldly: "Do you think I will be here?"

Suzi: "..."

She has no such thoughts.

She just didn't know how he would deal with her, she was worried, and she didn't want to escape. After seeing how and how he dealt with people a few days ago, she knew that no matter where she fled, Arron within a short period of time. She can be found.

Unless you plan carefully.

Since you can't escape, it's better to face him.

At least, Aunt Xia still needs her own.

Hold on first and talk about it later.

This is what Suzi has in mind.

Seeing that Suzi was silent, Arron's eyes looked at her and continued, "Pretend to be honest and pitiful, to win my trust, and then you can attack Lanita? Your camouflage skills are top-notch, Lanita still It's really not your opponent. All her jealousy of you is on the bright side. At best, she is a little girl willful, but you have a plan and a plan!"

Suzi smiled faintly: "Yes, since the last time I came back from Mr. Fu's family banquet, I have confessed to you, Mr. Fu. The reason why I approached Aunt Xia was to catch you. The child I was pregnant, the purpose is to rely on you, haven't I already admitted it?"

May I ask Mr. Fu, I don't understand what I said, do I need to explain? "

Arron: "..."

She was speechless.

She had indeed confessed to him, and he slowly treated her nicely after she confessed. After a pause, Arron still said in a gloomy tone: "Then you should also remember, how did I tell you?"

Suzi lowered his head: "Understood."

"Since I understand, I want to frame Lanita? Still want to use my power to kill her family? Are you still near the water tower and get the moon first? Suzi, do you think I give you a good face, you are a princess on earth?"

Suzi still had his head down.

She knew that she couldn't tell even with her mouth full.

Moreover, even if she wants to explain, Arron shouldn't listen, right?

The eyes he showed towards Lanita today were full of spoiling. Lanita was a woman who was pregnant with his child. A man like Arron who cared about relatives would definitely treat Lanita forever.

Suzi can only blame Lanita for better life than her. Lanita can meet a man who loves her like this, but where is she Suzi?

In front of this man, there is nothing.

Nothing!

The little harmony and warmth of the first two days were nothing more than his good mood for a while.

Suzi, you shouldn't be shining brightly with some sunshine, and you shouldn't fantasize about something wrong.

Lifting her head, she looked at Arron calmly: "I don't want to explain, wrong is wrong! I will bear it. I will move out immediately. I don't need any clothes you bought for me, and I don't need a computer. I will move out immediately.

But don't worry, I will still go to see Aunt Xia.

There is a ten thousand step back between us, isn't there still a contract?

I help you comfort Aunt Xia, you give me a sum of money.

Chapter 102

That's it.

If I said that I pushed Lanita's behavior today because you changed my attitude towards me two days ago, and made me proud, then I will never make such mistakes again in the future. "

After speaking, Suzi pushed Arron away and stepped into his bedroom. After a while, he packed up his things and came out.

She had very little luggage, only one pair of shoes was worn on her feet, and her clothes were replaced in one or two. Some simple toiletries were packed in a rotten-side snakeskin bag.

After he came out with a snakeskin bag, Suzi didn't look at Arron any more, and he was drowned in the night fog without saying hello.

It was Arron, standing in the blinds and watching the figure downstairs.

She walked so decisively, without nostalgia.

Suddenly, she discovered that she had many similarities with him.

Both of them are people who can be very warm, but when they decide, they can be so lonely and alienated.

Suzi went to a relatively cheap express hotel for one night. When staying in the hotel, what she was most grateful for was the young Joan who had always hurt her badly by those words, but was always willing to help her.

Joan lent her three thousand yuan, and she bought a few meals for Aunt Xia and a miniature hot water bottle for Christopher.

On the night that Arron gave her the computer two days ago, she purchased a small item online.

It's just that the small article is still on the way to mail, and the mailing address is Arron.

It doesn't matter.

Anyway, that little item is not for your own use. Because she didn't have a computer, she had promised her colleagues in the design department to work overtime at night to help them catch up the draft, but she couldn't finish it. When she woke up the next day, Suzi originally wanted to go to Aunt Xia to see Aunt Xia earlier. She went to the company early to add a morning shift. However, when she arrived in the high-risk ward, Suzi discovered that she could not get out of the hospital so early today.

Aunt Xia's fever continued. As it was in the intensive care unit, the doctor did not allow family members to accompany her at night, so the hospital did not notify Arron. After meeting the Fu family in the afternoon, the old lady's condition deteriorated drastically. We have tried everything possible to rescue the patient, but the patient himself has no willpower, so..."

Suzi's eyes instantly turned red.

Big tears fell.

Although he knew that Aunt Xia's life was coming soon, Suzi still didn't want to let Aunt Xia pass away. She had no relatives anymore, and none of them. The only person in the world who treats her kindly and treats her as a relative is Aunt Xia.

Suzi lay in front of Shanna's bed and wiped her forehead over and over again, hoping to relieve Aunt Xia's illness. She was late for work, and Suzi still did not leave until Arron came.

When the doctor gave Arron a detailed introduction to the patient's condition, Suzi quietly left.

Back to the company, I was late for work.

Moreover, the work to be completed yesterday was not done at all.

The entire design department looked at Suzi weirdly at the same time, and some directly said on Suzi's face: "Suzi, your tail is fast enough. We just treated you better two days ago, you don't know. What is your last name?"

Don't do the artwork, you are late for work, what are you doing! "

Suzi: "I'm sorry, I...I will paint now." Suzi respectfully said while looking at his seniority.

"No need! You should go to the construction site for chores!" The senior colleague has the right to act as the supervisor, and Suzi could only go to the construction site obediently when she ordered.

He took the bus all the way to the construction site. As soon as he arrived at the station, Suzi saw a person standing in front of him.

"Suzi, it's so hard for you to let me wait here for you." Lanita smiled triumphantly.
